Frequently Asked Questions

What is Bluebee Return and Exchange Policy? How does it work?

Bluebees returns and exchange policy gives you an option to return or exchange items purchased on bluebee for any reason within the specified return/exchange period (check product details page for the same). We only ask that you don't use the product and preserve its original condition, tags, and packaging. You are welcome to try on a product but please take adequate measure to preserve its condition. There are two ways to return the product to us:

Pick up: In most locations, we offer a free pick up service. You will see a pickup option when you submit a return request.

Self-SHIP: If we don't offer a pick up at your location. In such cases, we will credit the shipping costs in the form of Bluebee credits provided the product meets the return policy and you have shared scan copy of the courier receipt with us.

Why are there different prices for the same product? Is it legal?

Bluebee is an online marketplace platform that enables independent sellers to sell their products to buyers. The prices are solely decided by the sellers, and Bluebee does not interfere in the same. There could be a possibility that the same product is sold by different sellers at different prices. Bluebee rightfully fulfills all legal compliances of onboarding multiple sellers on its forum as it is a marketplace platform.

What is Bluebees Convenience Fee?

A Convenience Fee of Rs. 99/- will be applicable to the orders under Rs. 799/-, and Rs.49/- will be applicable for the orders with only personal care items under 499/-.

If the order is cancelled, lost or un - delivered to your preferred location, we will refund the complete order amount including the convenience fee, if paid online.

If you return an order delivered to you, order Convenience Fee will not be refunded. However, if you self - ship your returns, we will reimburse self - shipment charges based on Bluebee's Returns Policy. For accounts whose return behavior violates our fair usage policy, Convenience fee will be non - refundable irrespective of order value.

*Order value is calculated after applying discounts/VAT/GST or any other applicable charges.

The diagram illustrates a user flow from a product page to a review section. It starts with a screenshot of a product page for a 'Men Grey Classic Regular Fit Solid Formal Shirt'. The page shows a model wearing the shirt, its price (Rs. 2519/-), and a detailed description. Below the description are size options (36, 38, 40, 42, 44) and purchase buttons ('Add to Bag', 'Buy Now', 'Add to Wishlist'). A 'RATING 3.8★' section includes a 'Write a review' button. An arrow points from this button to a second screenshot of the same product page, which now features a large 'WRITE A REVIEW' button overlaid on the original 'Write a review' button area. This indicates that clicking the original button leads to a larger, more prominent review input field.

The diagram illustrates a user flow from a login/signup screen to a welcome account setup screen. It starts with a screenshot of a login/signup page. A red 'SIGNUP' button is at the top, and a red 'LOGIN' button is below it. A third button labeled 'With Guest Details' is also present. An arrow points from the 'With Guest Details' button to a second screenshot of the same page, where the 'With Guest Details' button has been highlighted. This indicates that selecting this option leads to a simplified account setup process. The second screenshot shows a 'Welcome To Bluebee' message and a 'Please set up your account' instruction, along with fields for mobile number/email, gender, name, mobile number, and password, plus an 'OTP' verification step.

CONCLUSION

The development of the software includes the process of creating, designing, deploying, and supporting software. The adequate design builds upon the foundation of properly collected data, which is then implemented by the developers. The designing process involves wireframing, mockups, and prototyping. As a transitional phase between wireframes and prototypes, mockups help designers by allocating time strictly to visuals. As mid- to high-fidelity representations of the final product, mockups help stakeholders immediately understand the final form of the website.

On realizing the importance of systematic documentation as it helps ensure consent and expectations, all the processes are illustrated for further future enhancements.
